Dear Paul,

We can't thank you enough for our two incredible weeks in Kenya. As we told you, we have been hoping and wishing for the chance to go on a photo safari to Africa since we first met, over 40 years ago. Four years ago we started seriously planning and in July, 2008 we gave you our deposit. Now, as I write this, it is hard to believe that we have been home for over a month. We are left with memories of a country that was filled with friendly and helpful people, a beautiful and varied countryside and animals that covered the spectrum from the spectacular flamingos to the drab little lizards, from that awe inspiring leopard to comical warthogs and from gigantic elephants to petite dik diks.

Everyone tells us that this was "the trip of a lifetime" and in one sense it was. However, a lifetime is what you need to take in the scope of Africa. That is why we are joining you in February, 2010, so that we can see and experience more of this extraordinary continent.
